Mahatma is the name of Mahatma Gandhi. Mahatma is not a title. Upright and down, big and small, rich and poor, young and old, peasant and rich, political and non-political, all are part of every man's life. There are kind words of his and his words are what we can learn from. The words are for a common man, peaceful and dignified life with a minimum and for the maximum benefit. The eternal light we get from his words is not in the form of words, but in the form of his deeds. The words are not to be taken literally, but to be taken in the spirit of his words.

It was the words of Mahatma which led to the examples of great men of the world who have got inspiration from his words. He was not a man who could not see the distance of a year, but the distance of the whole world combined together can enjoy the light of Mahatma's words. His words will be the light of the world and the light of the world will be in Mahatma's words and his deeds.

Gandhi inspired himself and his people. He also inspired millions of people during his lifetime, and is still inspiring people around the whole world. His thoughts are ever-lasting, ever true and will be the source of inspiration for all.

To make it easy for all, all his words have been arranged in alphabetical order, and arranged in the end of the book all his words have been arranged in the order of his words and his deeds.

The material for this book has been chosen from the Collected Works of Mahatma Gandhi and other primary sources. The book is an attempt to collect all the words of Mahatma Gandhi in a single place in one book. The book will be very useful for inspiring the young minds of the world, and it is a duty to bring a positive change in the world. We hope that the objectives with which the book has been compiled will be fulfilled.

A Chronological Biography of Mahatma Gandhi

By:
Anil Dutta Mishra
Saroj Kumar Jha
Sulhan Raj Tater

Contents

This work is an outcome of collective endeavour of three individuals who had a profound understanding of Mahatma Gandhi and his life for peace and better generation for bringing ethical values and self-reliance in them.

Gandhi's life was an open book. He combined facts with value, theory with practice, body with soul. He conducted experiments after experiments to achieve the final goal. On the basis of Non-violence, Satyagrah, Swadeshi and Swaraj he led the freedom struggle of India and showed the way to the world.

Gandhi was a man of principles and great convictions and always practiced what he preached. Once, when asked for a message to humanity, Gandhi said, "My life is my message". He lived a very simple life with very few wants and needs, what he believed in and used, held true even today in the era of globalisation.

Mahatma Gandhi, a man of great spirit, applied his soul as a large number of human concerns and left an indelible impact on the social, economic and political forces of the day. He left an everlasting impact on the world at large because he always spoke and understood the language of the masses and downtrodden. He made the people believe in rights against oppression and exploitation. He was a man for the masses of his time. Values of the world today are in search of him.

This book provides a detailed chronological biography of Mahatma Gandhi. It provides a very detailed and precise history. It also gives a detailed account of Mahatma Gandhi's life and action starting from 2nd October 1869 till his death 30th January 1948.

This book will be very useful for lawyers, students, research scholars, policy makers, politicians and social workers.
